N-ewe arrivals at Pets' Corner

SPRING has sprung at Pets' Corner with the birth of the first lambs and calves of the season.

Three lambs and one calf have been born since Friday, with another calf and more lambs due over the next few weeks.

Karen Hughes, who works at the popular attraction in the Town Park, said: "All the animals are doing really well and seem to be happy and healthy.

"It's always lovely to have the newborns and this is always a really happy and exciting time.

"It's like spring is in the air and we're keeping a close eye on the expecting mothers to make sure everything goes well."

More gloom as drugs firm joins the jobs exodus

CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

HUNDREDS more jobs are at risk in Harlow after pharmaceutical giant GlaxoSmithKline this week confirmed plans to shut down part of its sprawling research and development centre in Pinnacles.

Almost 250 staff working at the drugs firm's New Frontiers Science Park have been told they will have to relocate to sister sites in Ware and Stevenage - or else face redundancy.

The move comes two years after the company sacked almost 400 staff in a shake-up of its R&D operations worldwide, and less than two weeks after almost 800 Harlow jobs were put at risk by Tesco's plans to close its fresh food depot in nearby Flex Meadow.

GSK claims the reshuffle will "increase collaboration" across its R&D departments while helping to slash overheads, but critics - including Harlow MP Robert Halfon and local councillors - have branded the plans disastrous for the town's economy.

A company spokesman told the Star: "We want to create the best possible work environment, approach, skills and technology to ensure that GSK continues to be a leader in R&D in the UK for the next 10 to 20 years.

"These plans are at an early stage of development, and we are providing employees with a view of our proposed intentions before we have the detail on proposed locations and timing."

According to the spokesman, staff redeployment could begin later this year, although the majority of transitions will happen in early 2014.

"When we have identified the best location for staff we'll be consulting on proposals," he added.

Once one of the town's biggest employers, the planned reshuffle means GSK will soon only have a handful of staff working at the site in Pinnacles.

The firm's withdrawal has also raised fresh concerns over its proposed investment into Harlow's much-vaunted Enterprise Zone, which has been billed as a 'silicon valley' for medtech firms.

Tesco depot workers could face pay cut

TESCO'S embattled distribution centre staff could face further woe with pay cuts and "inferior" terms and conditions on their renegotiated contracts, union bosses have claimed.

The impending closure of the depot in Pinnacles has put 800 jobs at risk, and the Star now understands that employees are being asked to take a pay cut from £12 to £8 per hour.

Staff union USDAW, which is currently locked in consultation talks with Tesco staff and management, this week branded the supermarket giant's plans an "attack" on staff.

USDAW Divisional Counsellor Phil Waite - who is also a member of Harlow Council's Labour cabinet - said: "The closure of the Tesco distribution centre has come as a devastating blow to those staff affected."

"We believe the closure is an attack on terms and conditions."

"The strategy Tesco adopted at the Fenny Lock depot in Milton Keynes recently was to shut the site in 2011 and reopen the depot on inferior terms and conditions, for staff."

"We believe this strategy will be adopted in Harlow, in fact we have been informed that it will become a 'dot com hub' which will only focus on the Internet sector of the company, similar to the Waltham cross depot."

"If this is the case, Tesco will reopen the site and employ cheap migrant labour at exploitative rates, putting severe pressure on services and housing across the town."

But Tesco's Media Relations Manager Lizzie Roberts said it was too early in the consultation process to draw conclusions.

She added: "As part of our consultation process we will be talking to each colleague to look at all the options open to them."

"Across our distribution network, our combined pay and benefits package for drivers and warehouse staff is benchmarked and always in the top 25 per cent of the industry offer."

"While pay rates at each distribution site are determined by the local market, we are committed to helping colleagues who wish to take on a new role, and will be working with USDAW to consider how we can support each person through that transition with training and financial support."

Staff on the move in GSK shake-up

Council's cabinet member for regeneration and enterprise, said: "GSK's activities and buildings in Harlow are part of the science base of UK plc and it is very disappointing that GSK is now looking to relocate further activities away from Harlow."

"The council is seeking confirmation from GSK of what its intentions are for the buildings and how it proposes to continue to invest in the science base of Harlow."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon added: "I'm incredibly disappointed that GSK is moving."

"GSK has always had a strong presence in Harlow and I'm determined to see if we can keep them here somehow."

"The business is an integral part of Harlow and I don't want to lose it."

Crimewatch in second appeal over fire deaths

A FATAL arson attack which claimed the lives of five children and their mother in Harlow is to become the focus of a second televised Crimewatch appeal.

Dr Sabah Usmani, sons Sohaib (11), Muneeb (9) and Rayyan (6) and daughters Hira (12) and Maheen (3) all lost their lives after the blaze ripped through their end-of-terrace home in Barn Mead on October 15.

Police believe the fire was started deliberately by burglars who raided the house earlier the same night.

The sole survivor, Dr Abdul Shakoar, will be interviewed for the BBC programme, which will also feature a reconstruction of the events leading up to the blaze told from his perspective.

Film crews will begin shooting footage in Barn Mead on Wednesday ahead of the programme's broadcast later this month.

Police hope it will help jog the memory of potential witnesses. Officers are trying to trace Dr Shakoar's stolen black Toshiba Satellite laptop and identify two teenagers seen riding bikes near the house on the night of the fire.

Anyone with information should call investigation team on (01277) 266869 or email scdappeals@essex.pnn.police.

Blunnie murder trial prompts CPS review

CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AN internal investigation has been launched by the Crown Prosecution Service after it emerged the killer of Eystna Blunnie was not prosecuted for allegedly strangling his pregnant ex-partner two months before he beat her to death on a Harlow street.

Tony McLernon (24), of North Grove, Harlow, was jailed for 27 years last week after being found guilty of Ms Blunnie's murder.

During the two-week trial at Chelmsford Crown Court, it emerged that the tragic 20-year-old - whose unborn daughter also died following the brutal attack on June 27 last year - had reported McLernon to police after he allegedly tried to strangle her on April 9.

WHY? McLernon, right, was not taken to court despite reports he had tried to strangle Eystna, below

Her original police statement was read out to the court, in which she claimed he had squeezed her throat to the point her unborn baby had started to kick out in distress.

But despite Essex Police passing on details of the allegations to the CPS, the decision was taken not to prosecute - even though McLernon had a well-documented history of domestic violence.

The court had heard he was charged with common assault in October 2007 after punching then-girlfriend Kimberley Mitchell in the reception of Harlow Police Station, while the following year he was accused of assaulting another ex in the street after threatening her with a kitchen knife.

Following McLernon's conviction last week, Grace Ononiuw, Chief Crown Prosecutor for the eastern region, said an investigation was now underway to find out why he was not prosecuted earlier.

"This has been brought to my attention by the Judge in this case as part of the trial," she said.

"I am directing a review into a previous decision and will only be able to comment further once that review is completed."

SIR, Following your article on housing reforms and what Labour are wrongly calling the "bedroom tax" (Star, March 7), I wanted to make sure readers have the full facts.

Firstly, there is genuine protection for the vulnerable. From next month Harlow Council will have access to a generous £155m fund to help social tenants who have difficulties paying their rent - particularly those who are disabled or have other special needs regarding children. Next year, this will be topped up with an extra £125m.

Conservatives in Government have created these funds because it is the first duty of society is to help the vulnerable. It is up to Harlow Council to make sure that our town gets its fair share.

The council has also been boosted by a cash windfall of £500,000 thanks to new housebuilding. Indeed, they are using some of the cash to hire new staff, but if they wanted to they could easily use this to help tenants.

Instead it has increased council tax, hiked up its budget for councillor allowances, closed the welfare rights and advice centre and brought in a new shopping tax on everyone who parks at the town's shopping hatches. Local councillors must take responsibility for their own actions rather than seeking to blame everybody else.

We do need to help social tenants to find housing. One of the biggest issues that residents raise with me in my weekly surgeries is housing.

Right now across the country there are over 250,000 families cramped into overcrowded accommodation. They urgently need more space. The waiting list for Harlow Council alone is still at around 4,000 families. We need more affordable housing.

That is the driving force behind the Government's reforms to housing benefit.

This is not a bedroom tax as no one will be charged anything more from HMRC. The reforms will mean that people will continue to get housing benefit for all the rooms that they use, but no more.

Now it is up to Harlow Council. It has the cash and the powers to secure extra protection for pensioners, the disabled and members of the Armed Forces. I am urging councillors to use the money to help Harlow people most in need.

Robert Halfon MP
House of Commons

Council can access cash to protect the vulnerable

THIS week's photo of a sparrowhawk was taken by reader John Curry in the back garden of his home in Old Orchard, Harlow.

"He stayed around for half-an-hour or so," writes Mr Curry. "Needless to say no small birds were seen in the vicinity for some time!"

If you have a photo taken in Harlow that you think is good enough to feature in the Photo of the Week section, we would love to see it.

Email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Please remember to include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

Politicians should try living on benefits

SIR, Both myself and my wife have long-term medical problems. We are aged 29 and 25. It's amazing the impact that just over £6 a week will have on us. Due to the fact the Government think that we can live on very little money already, we are now expected to pay a large yearly council tax bill. Why don't politicians try living in our situation without a huge wage? I'm sure the benefit reforms would be very different if they were in our shoes.

Kevin Wilson
Harlow

My criticism was not directed at hospice

SIR, The letter from Elizabeth Palfreyman (Star, March 7) in response to my criticism of a single poor management decision was not directed at St Clare Hospice in general as she attempts to imply by using the collective 'us' in her reply. As I recall I intentionally heaped lavish praise on the organisation in my first paragraph. Decisions are made by people not organisations and the danger of suggesting that to supply fleeces and T-shirts was some sort of collective decision should be obvious. Both I and Star readers know full well that the hospice is not run as some sort of co-operative.

Making a decision and having the courage to stand up and be counted might have been a wiser choice than risk having all at St Clare's tarred with the same critical brush by using the collective 'us'. I suggest the decision to supply fleeces and T-shirts to the Harlow shop staff suggests a lack of joined-up thinking by one person only.

If staff need to be recognised - and I am reliably assured it was only one customer on one occasion who complained - then a simple inexpensive name badge with a photograph would have been sufficient, cost-effective and certainly more personal to satisfy those lost souls unable to use a bit of nous and enquire at the always manned front desk as most of us do.

Working outside? I am sure that in the interests of economy the staff would prefer to slip on a coat of their own choosing as they seem to have done without complaint since time immemorial. Did anyone bother to consult them? Perhaps we could be told why the numerous volunteers who also work in the shop (and outside) have been left out of this free clothing bonanza.

Finally, it seems the most deprived workers of all are the van drivers and loaders. Out in all weathers, meeting the public, in and out of strange houses and high rise flats and, unless I am very much mistaken, the only blue visible is the tips of their noses. Otherwise not an item of visible identification between them.

I intend this to be my last letter on the subject and although I don't subscribe to Facebook I am sure that posted answers to my comments and questions would be appreciated by the multitude. As an ex-cancer patient who last year found comfort in the fact that, in the last resort, St Clare was just up the road, I feel it is vital that donors, volunteers, fundraisers and staff not to be put off by my criticism of this questionable decision and the subsequent response.

Shop customers are the main offenders

SIR, I totally agree with the mother complaining about parking on pavements in Old Harlow (Star, March 7).

This problem has been going on for years and the main offenders seem to be customers visiting the hairdressers in the High Street. If you complain you just get a 'I couldn't care look', so why don't the owners of this shop tell their customers to use the car parks before arriving for their appointments?

J.Stansfield
Old Harlow

Daily hazards faced by scooter users

SIR, Having to give up my car at the age of 80 I decided to get a scooter. On its arrival I thought the world was my oyster. What a mistake!

Whoever laid the brick for the slopes to cross the road has obviously never driven a scooter. As you glide down there is a two-three inch curb at the end and you are literally tipped into the road.

Cars parked on the pavement are another obstacle. I came across a row of six cars with only two wheels in the road. The rest of the cars were on the pavement and I had to drive with the wheels on the grass.

There was a dip in the grass which the back wheels dropped into and I had to knock on someone's door to lift my scooter out.

I suggest a band of us get together and try to do something about it.

We need new M11 junction to keep town moving

I KNOW that traffic congestion is a major frustration for residents who want to be able to travel around the town without any delays.

I know it is also frustrating for local businesses as traffic delays can cost them money. Most of Harlow's business activity takes place in the north and west of the town as this is where the town's industrial areas are located.

Traffic congestion can be a reason why businesses don't expand or invest in Harlow. The council believes it is time to get these problems sorted out for both residents and businesses and this is why it is campaigning for a new Junction 7A on the M11.

Harlow is in a great location within easy reach of the M11 and the M25, but being so close to the busiest motorways in the region also creates serious traffic congestion in the town. Whenever there is an accident or roadworks on either motorway we see more cars and lorries heading to or coming from the M11 to drive straight through the town,

COUNCIL MATTERS

By Harlow Council leader Mark Wilkinson

bringing our roads to a standstill.

A new junction to the north of the town - in the right place and with the right connection to Harlow - would reduce congestion because traffic could join or leave the M11 at a different point.

We are making our case to the Government, standing up for Harlow to try to ensure the town gets the investment it desperately needs. Most similar towns and cities have two motorway junctions and if Harlow is to develop now and in the future then its major transport routes need to be improved.

THIS week households will receive their annual council tax bills. Following the Government's recent welfare reform changes, some families will be receiving a bill for the very first time.

This bill shows households how much they will pay towards services provided by Harlow Council, Essex County Council, Essex Police and the Essex Fire Authority.

Although Harlow Council collects the tax, it only receives a small proportion of the total amount.

Out of every £100 of council tax collected in Harlow only £17 goes towards services provided by Harlow Council. This pays for services like refuse and recycling collections, street cleaning, parks and open spaces, paddling pools and The Playhouse.

The rest goes to Essex County Council (£70), Essex Police (£9) and Essex Fire Authority (£4).

Harlow Council receives a small amount but continues to try to deliver a lot.

Owners celebrate success at Crufts

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

TWO dog owners from Harlow were bursting with pride this week after their animals won best of breed awards at the world-famous Crufts show.

Peter Kiernan (49), of Sherards Orchard, said he was "completely blown away" after one-year-old Bedlington Terrier, Rufus (registered name CH Bisbee Ikatcher at Kierlander), got the judge's vote at this year's show, which was held at the Birmingham NEC over the weekend.

"I was surprised to win but absolutely delighted, too," he said. "It's the first time for Rufus and I'm so proud of him; he's done really well and given it his all."

"I came in second in Best of Breed back in 1995 so I'm really delighted really to go one step further."

Also celebrating was airport security guard Ann Papworth (56) whose two-and-a-half-year-old Hungarian Vizsla, Ella (registered name Nicael Galicia), picked up a best in breed title.

Ann, who works at Stansted Airport, said: "I was a little awestruck to be honest, but it is amazing to win best of breed and I am just so proud of Ella."

"I was a little nervous but it is just a brilliant feeling and this is the best show in the world."

"I love coming to Crufts and so to win it with Ella is a great feeling."

Sophie overcomes nerves to win Kennel Club's young groomer title

WINNER: Sophie with Archie

A HARLOW teenager had a brush with success at Crufts when she was named Young Kennel Club Groomer of the Year.

Sophie Wing (18), of Hornbeams, won the competition after a 4am start and an intense two-hour judging during which she was required to groom miniature schnauzer Archie to perfection.

Sophie, who works at Mister Groom in Colt Hatch, said: "It was my first time at Crufts and I was really nervous."

"I decided to take along Archie as the dog I would groom because he's such a brilliant dog. He's excellent on the table and the miniature schnauzer is a great size for what I wanted while I was in the ring."

She added: "It was really intense because the judges are always coming over to check on your work. I was really shocked that I had won but so proud of my achievement. I would love to carry on competing."

Sophie studied dog grooming at Writtle College after leaving school and began working at Mister Groom during her two-week work experience.

"I became a Saturday girl before qualifying as a dog groomer and am now working full time," she said. "I love animals and I love my job. One day, I hope to open up my own grooming business."

A marathon dream comes true for Razed Roof runner

ONE keen runner is making her dream come true by running the London Marathon to raise money for Harlow-based inclusive performing arts group Razed Roof.

Catherine Ridge (30), of Mark Hall Moors, discovered the group for people with and without disabilities and learning difficulties when she began writing for the Dancing Giraffe website.

"I have learned from my teaching experience and from my volunteering work just how important groups like Razed Roof are," she said.

"Razed Roof is fantastic in challenging the common misconceptions of what people with disabilities can do and this is the first time they have had someone running the London Marathon on their behalf, which makes it even more special.

"I feel honoured to have been chosen. I've always wanted to run the London Marathon so it's like a dream come true."

The primary school teacher has taken part in several 10k races and completed her first marathon in Edinburgh last year in a time of four hours and 46 minutes.

"I'm hoping to raise £1,000, and have already reached £700," she said.

Charity looking for more volunteers to help share the care currently use Accuro's services.

Michelle Jephcott, Accuro's shared care co-ordinator, said: "This is an annual event to raise awareness and the profile of short breaks and shared care.

"We hope to encourage people to come forward and consider becoming a shared carer to children and young people with a disability.

"It's a wonderful way to promote the amazing work Accuro and carers do."

Accuro will also be hosting an open drop-in networking lunch at its offices in Hastingwood on Wednesday from noon-2pm to raise awareness of its work and help people find out more about what it does

A cake sale and raffle will take place next Saturday (March 16) outside Boots in Saffron Walden to raise much-needed funds for the charity.

And Harlow Greyhound Stadium will also be doing its bit to support the charity on Saturday, March 23 by selling tickets for £10 which includes entry to the track in Roydon Road, a programme and a complimentary first drink. Doors will open at 6pm.

For tickets, email Ruth Davies at ruth@accuro.org.uk.

Students lend a hand for fashion show

FASHION and hair and beauty students at Harlow College will be helping one of their peers raise money for Great Ormond Street Hospital by staging a huge fashion show.

Alexandra Clynch (20) who is studying fashion and textiles, was inspired to do something for the children's hospital after her three-year-old cousin was diagnosed with Gillain-Barre syndrome - a condition where the body's immune system attacks parts of the nervous system.

Students from Harlow and across the county will be showcasing their work at the fashion show where confirmed guests include the French Connection design team, the Urban Outfitters buying team and arts illustrator Nuno Da Costa.

The event, which has been organised by Alexandra, will be held next Saturday (March 23) at Broxbourne Civic Hall from 6-8pm.

Tackling domestic violence must be a priority, says Stride

LABOUR parliamentary hopeful Suzy Stride has given her backing to a campaign to stop violence against women and young girls.

Speaking during a visit on Thursday to charity Safer Places in Bush Fair, Harlow, ahead of International Women's Day, Ms Stride said the Government needed to do more to tackle the issue of domestic violence. She used the visit to support The One Billion Rising campaign which takes its name from the statistic that one in three women around the world will be beaten or raped during their lifetime. "International Women's Day was a reminder to me how important are campaigns like the One Billion Rising which works to highlight and tackle violence against women and girls," she said.

"As the tragic murder in Harlow last year reminds us, domestic violence is a major problem. In England and Wales, two women are killed every week at the hands of a partner or former partner yet tackling domestic violence is not being given the priority it needs."

Ms Stride is pictured above with Allison Mann, director of business studies at Safer Places. In November 2011 the charity, which runs overnight shelters and refuges, lost £186,000 in funding from Essex County Council.

Two-year project to safeguard marshes

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WORK has started on a two-year project to revitalise and preserve an important wildlife habitat in Harlow.

Harlow Marshes, off Burnt Mill Lane, has been described by conservationists as a "unique and valuable" wetland.

The £43,000 scheme is being led by Essex Wildlife Trust and Harlow Wildlife Projects and will halt the break-up of the habitat by improving 6.4 hectares of wetland within the reserve which supports a wide range of plants, animals and insects including meadow rue, warblers, snipe and dragonflies.

Funding has been provided by the BBA Stansted Community Trust, Natural England and The Veolia Environmental Trust.

Some 2,000 square metres of new reed-bed habitats will be created, while work will also be carried out to improve ditches, return grassland to original floodplain level and establish three shallow pools.

Other work scheduled for completion during the course of the project include the widening of a bridge to improve access and allow annual cutting and grazing of an isolated section of grassland.

Rebecca Banks, of the Essex Biodiversity Project, said: "Harlow Marshes are an increasingly rare, species-rich floodplain habitat. This, coupled with its urban riverside location, makes it a unique and valuable site for both people and wildlife.

"This work will boost the site's habitat potential and its role as an important amenity resource that will provide educational and recreational benefits to local people, whatever their age or ability."

She added: "This area serves as an important green lung for the residents of Harlow, contributing to overall wellbeing and providing a suite of health benefits."

NEWS IN BRIEF

£10k gift to cancer unit

A CHEQUE for £10,000 has been presented to the breast cancer clinical trials unit at Princess Alexandra Hospital by a charity set up to carry on the work of a young woman who died from the disease.

The Maria Falco Trust was started in memory of Maria Falco, who began raising money when she was first diagnosed with the disease.

She was treated in the breast cancer unit at St Margaret's Hospital in Epping and at Princess Alexandra Hospital, but sadly passed away in 2005.

Maria's father, Mike Falco, said: "We want to carry on fundraising because the trials have real treatment outcomes."

Ashraf Patel, associate specialist in breast surgery, said: "The Falco family are fantastic long-term supporters of our clinical trials unit."

"Without them we could not have undertaken some of our most important research."

Union's budget demands

FIGURES released by the UK's largest union show 4.6 unemployed people are chasing every advertised job vacancy in Harlow.

The average for the eastern region is three people, while in neighbouring Epping Forest the figure is 3.5 people.

Glyn Hawker, eastern regional secretary for UNISON, said: "The scale of the ongoing jobs crisis is deeply worrying."

"The Government must use the forthcoming budget to outline a bold strategy for jobs and growth. Give public sector workers a decent pay rise and more money will flow through tills in local shops and businesses, helping our beleaguered high streets."

SCHOOLGATE NURSERY

Pupils dress up for World Book Day

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

SCHOOLS in and around Harlow were taken over by bookworms as pupils joined in celebrations for World Book Day on Thursday.

Children across the town swapped their usual uniforms to dress up as their favourite literary characters.

Schoolgate Nursery, in Carter's Mead, and St Nicholas School, in Old Harlow, went the extra mile with their home-made costumes and book-related activities.

Anita Parrish, nursery manager at Schoolgate, said: "All the children made a really big effort for World Book Day with their fancy dress."

"Staff also dressed up to show that everyone loves books and we all came as Mr Men and Little Miss characters. We decided on this because we wanted to teach the kids about colour and shape. The day was a real success."

Margaret Jones, head of infants at St Nicholas School, said: "Our infants and juniors had different events for World Book Day but here in the infants the staff and children had loads of fun dressing up as their favourite characters. Everyone looked fantastic."

"We also had lots of activities during the day surrounding Jack and the Beanstalk. We made bookmarks, planted beans and had staff from the senior school come in and read to us. It was a great day and lots of fun."

Roydon Primary School made their World Book Day celebrations even more special by inviting comic book authors Dan Abnett and Andy Lanning to officially open the new library.

She said: "They were very excited. The whole school joined in with the teachers judging the best costumes. The head even dressed up as a library!"

Road repair teams focus on potholes

HIGHWAYS chiefs are stepping up action to repair potholes in the county's damaged roads caused by winter freezes following the wettest year since records began.

Forty-four specialist gangs are currently working across Essex focusing on pothole repairs.

Once weather conditions improve, more gangs will be recruited to carry out repairs using jet patchers, a high-pressure patching system which allows repairs to be made with minimum disruption to traffic.

Derrick Louis, cabinet member for highways and transportation at County Hall, said: "Maintaining and improving the condition of our highways is one of ECC's top priorities and we will be investing an additional £35m over the next two years to ensure our roads are kept to the standards that our residents deserve."

To report potholes or other damage, residents can use the 'View it, Track it, Report it' function by visiting www.essex.gov.uk/ highways.

Halfon praises work of drug project team

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has described as "astounding" the work of a local drug treatment facility during a visit to meet staff and people who use the service.

Passmores House, in Third Avenue, has been run by the Westminster Drug Project since April 2011. It helps to rehabilitate people addicted to drugs and/or alcohol.

"It has been an eye-opener and quite inspirational," Mr Halfon said after the visit. "I have met with staff and residents who are recovering from severe drug use and been able to speak to lots of people involved."

"It's quite astonishing to see lives being transformed for the better."

"We are very lucky in Harlow to have a residential rehabilitation project like this and I will be asking the Government to invest much more in this area."

The drug treatment centre offers several different services which fall under the categories of detoxification, stabilisation and rehabilitation.

Westminster Drug Project chairwoman Yasmin Batilwala said: "We were able to explain to Mr Halfon the complex causes of addiction and its impact on so many other aspects of life, such as relationships, employment, housing and mental health."

"We discussed how well-intentioned government policy can, in fact, often have unintended consequences and how important it is to focus on treating people on a needs basis, rather than a purely budget basis."

She added: "While both community and residential rehabilitation are necessary, there is a clear cohort of patients for whom residential is the best option, and sometimes a life-saver. Passmores House exists for these people."

Passmores House helps adults aged 18 or over with all levels of dependency and drug or alcohol problems. Provisions for offenders are also available.

Wheelchair user assaulted

POLICE have issued an appeal for witnesses to a robbery during which a man in a wheelchair was hit over the head and knocked out of his chair.

The victim, a man in his 50s, was grabbed from behind in the Long Banks area of Harlow between 6.30pm and 7pm on Sunday, February 17.

The thief then stole his camera equipment, mobile phone and cash.

WIN Top price tickets to killer Queen musical

NOW in its 11th year, the hit Queen musical We Will Rock You is still as popular as ever.

The show is set in a future age of mindless manufactured music, where everyone dresses the same, thinks the same and acts the same.

The hope of breaking free rests with an unlikely resistance - an alliance of rebel Bohemians deep below Planet Mall, waiting for a hero to bring the power of rock back to the people.

And in Galileo, with more than a little help from the feisty Scaramouche, they may just have found their man...that is, unless the terrifying Killer Queen gets to them first.

The spectacular Olivier Award-winning musical phenomenon is still as fresh, funny and fantastically entertaining as ever.

Written by comedian and author Ben Elton and featuring Queen tunes Radio Ga Ga, I Want to Break Free, Bohemian Rhapsody and, of course, We Will Rock You, it's the champion of all musicals.

For a chance to win one of five pairs of top tickets to the musical at the Dominion Theatre in London answer this simple question: Who was the lead singer of Queen?

To enter, visit our website at www.harlowstar.co.uk and click on the 'Competitions' link under the Newspaper tab. Be sure to enter 'Star We Will Rock You' in the competition line or your entry will be discounted.

The closing date for entries is noon on Wednesday, March 20.

Tickets are for available for the performance on Monday, April 15 only. Tickets are subject to availability. The prize cannot be transferred, transport is not included and no cash alternative is available.

WIN A goody bag & tickets to Jack The Giant Slayer at Cineworld Harlow

NEXT week sees the release of the film Jack The Giant Slayer telling the story of an ancient war that is reignited when a young farmhand called Jack unwittingly opens a gateway between our world and a fearsome race of giants.

Unleashed on the Earth for the first time in centuries, the giants set out to reclaim the land they once lost, forcing Jack into the battle of his life to stop them.

Fighting for a kingdom, its people, and the love of a brave princess, he comes face to face with the unstoppable warriors he thought only existed in legend - and gets the chance to become a legend himself.

Jack The Giant Slayer - which is directed by Bryan Singer (The Usual Suspects, X-Men and Superman Returns) and stars Nicholas Hoult, Ewan McGregor, Bill Nighy and Ian McShane - is a blend of the classic Jack and the Beanstalk tale and Jack the Giant Killer, a similar tale from the 17th century about a boy who slays giants during King Arthur's reign.

This week we have teamed up with Cineworld Harlow to give you the chance to win tickets to see the film.

Two winners will receive a pair of tickets and a goody bag of Jack The Giant Killer merchandise while three runners-up will receive pairs of tickets.

All you have to do to take part is answer this simple question: In the fairytale, what did Jack climb to get to the giant's castle?

To enter, visit our website at www.harlowstar.co.uk and click on the 'Competitions' link under the Newspaper tab. Be sure to enter 'Star Jack The Giant Slayer' in the competition line or your entry will be discounted.

The closing date for entries is noon on Wednesday, March 20.

Country pub is a great place to wine and dine

SITUATED in pretty countryside yet only two miles from Junction 7 of the M11, the John Barleycorn is a great place to meet for a drink or enjoy a meal from the extensive menu.

With its low ceilings and exposed oak beams, the John Barleycorn is full of character and one of the most attractive bar/restaurants in the area.

There is natural light from the windows overlooking the large garden and patio where there are picnic tables, parasols, a pond with fountain and well maintained lawns.

Carl and Pauline Yardley, the owners for more than nine years, pride themselves on providing high quality, locally sourced produce which is freshly prepared. The emphasis is firmly on flavour, together with an outstanding standard of service.

Seasonal dishes are offered on the very varied menu and there is also a daily specials board. A great choice of fish dishes and vegetarian options are also available as well as a selection of home-made desserts. Most dietary needs can be catered for.

Sunday roast, which is served from noon until 8pm, is a must! From Tuesday to Saturday lunchtime, a bar snacks menu is available alongside the main menu.

From the bar you can enjoy a wide range of popular brand named lagers and real ales. There is also a first class wine list, which has useful tasting notes to help you choose.

There are some excellent house wines as well as fantastic wines from around the world at reasonable prices and a great selection of wines and champagnes by the glass.

Regular cabaret nights with live vocalists are very popular. See the website for more details and to sign up for the John Barleycorn newsletter and special dining offers.

Private parties and functions, including weddings, christenings and funeral gatherings can all be accommodated.

Dr Barbara Barrie

Know 4 sure

When it comes to cancer, there are 4 key signs to look out for:

- 1. Unexplained blood that doesn't come from an obvious injury
- 2. An unexplained lump
- 3. Unexplained weight loss, which feels significant to you
- 4. Any type of unexplained pain that doesn't go away

Chances are it's nothing serious, but finding it early makes it more treatable. So if you notice any of these signs, tell your doctor.

Keepers go ape to comfort baby gorilla

ZOOKEEPERS in an American zoo have gone ape for a baby gorilla that was rejected by its mother.

Gladys the gorilla, who was born in January, is being fed and cared for by staff at the zoo in Cincinnati in the United States.

They are now working in shifts to provide care for Gladys and acting like gorillas so she can be introduced to two other females.

The team wear all black, grunt and will soon be wearing hairy vests, walking on all fours and carrying the baby ape on their backs, just like a real gorilla, to help her settle in. "Whatever a gorilla mum would do with her baby is what we have to do with this baby," said team leader

Ron Evans. And the good news is that their efforts are paying off. Gladys is gaining weight and at nearly seven pounds is big for her age.

New yoga school will stretch the mind and body

A NEW yoga and spiritual school at the Latton Bush Centre is offering to treat both the mind and body under the guidance of the only authorised ashtanga yoga teacher in Essex.

Shelley Osman is both school director and teacher at AYE, which stands for 'Awakening to Your Essence'.

The mother-of-two has been practicing yoga since she was 15 and has received validation to teach the ashtanga yoga method by her teacher, Sharath Jois, in India.

"When my mum took me to my first yoga class at 15 I fell in love with it," she said. "It was something that clicked with me."

"My teaching focuses on the philosophical as well as the practical which, I think, makes it unique."

AYE has five staff who each specialise in different areas of yoga and general wellbeing. Classes include pregnancy yoga, meditation, nutritional therapy and various workshops.

Joanne's pie and mash a taste of the East End

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

EAST End ex-pats keen to sample a taste of traditional pie and mash can now satisfy their hunger at a new shop in Sawbridgeworth.

Lil's Pie & Mash is owned by Joanne Morgan, who was born and raised in West Ham and has happy childhood memories of tucking into the iconic London grub.

She decided to open her 20-seater restaurant and takeaway at The Maltings to offer other former east enders a taste of nostalgia.

Joanne, pictured right, who runs the business with partner Carl McAvoy, said: "It's the yesteryear factor. There are so many people who are originally from the East End who have moved out of London and are now living in this area. It's a taste of home."

The traditional minced beef pies are sourced from Kent-based pie maker Goodards, which has been baking handmade pies using quality ingredients since 1890.

The mash is made freshly on the premises and the liquor - historically made from stewed eels - is made to a secret recipe.

Since opening, Lil's has attracted customers from the capital as well as from across Essex, Hertfordshire and even Kent.

Joanne is hoping the news will soon spread to Sawbridgeworth's most famous resident, soccer ace David Beckham, who is known to be partial to a plate of pie and mash having been snapped enjoying his favourite dish at Tony Lane's Pie and Mash Shop in nearby Waltham Abbey.

"We've been Tweeting him like mad," she said. "It would be great if he popped in."

She added: "We're going to start making black cab deliveries in the next few weeks."

"My son is always asking me what is it that's so amazing about pie and mash but people just love it. I was bought up on it."

Lil's is open from 11.30am to 7pm on weekdays and until 3pm on Saturdays.

Small business gets big boost with top prizes

A HARLOW-based company has won a small business prize worth £10,000.

Ankrah Associates, a marketing and empowering consultancy which supports 'mumpreneurs' and microbusinesses run by women, has received new business equipment from O2 and Microsoft, membership of the Chartered Management Institute and online advertising.

Yvette Ankrah, whose winning proposal was inspired by her time as a working mother, said: "I'm passionate about helping women, especially mums, reach their business goals."

"Many women are setting up in business with little or no support and I wish to be part of that support team."

The consultancy company, which offers mentoring in marketing and event planning, have also launched a new website.

Peter King, one of the judges, said: "Yvette's proposal ticked so many boxes. The prize will benefit her and her company greatly."

To celebrate the launch of the website, Yvette is now offering a cut-price marketing review and consultation for £99.

Visit www.ankrahassociates.co.uk/launchoffer for details.

Are you? being served?

ANY company's most vital asset is its customers. When a customer is satisfied they will not only help a company grow with their repeat business but the chances are they'll recommend it to friends and associates too.

How many times have you heard of poor customer service and, without even trying it for yourself - be it a restaurant, shop or hairdresser - you have simply gone elsewhere based on the damning report you have heard?

In today's economic climate when every penny counts, it has never been more important to offer not just a good product but great customer service. This is a chance for the smaller, independent stores to steal a march on their larger high street cousins by concentrating on the personal touch that you can't always get via the internet or in large, impersonal chain stores.

As customers we like to feel important and appreciated but not hassled. Good customer service is about going the extra mile to make a customer feel valued.

But it doesn't just apply to the shop floor. One of customers' biggest complaints is a lack of personal connection when they try to reach a company by phone. This is a business's first line of contact, so it's important to get it right.

Paying attention to feedback is another way to find out how you can improve. People are usually more likely to complain before they will pass on a compliment, but listening to customers' needs is crucial to improving their experience.

Sadly, as consumers, we have grown accustomed to outsourced customer service departments and faceless, electronic 'help', but when a company actually goes above and beyond the call of duty and provides excellent customer support, you won't forget it.

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
Mercury is now heading forwards, and whilst this won't be a complete panacea for the desire you have had to retreat at times this month, this change, along with the Sun storming into your sign, is certainly going to be a springboard for a more progressive and outgoing phase. In fact, by the end of this week, you can sparkle brightly. Call me now Aries for more news and astral advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
You may find yourself thinking carefully about the people who you spend the most time with. Sincerely and genuineness are going to be key attributes for the next few weeks. As much as some of your circle may be amusing and uplifting company, spending time with those who understand what really makes you tick, can be a great comfort. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
It's shake, rattle and roll as your social life gets under way and brings more of everything, including new friends and keen-to-get-to-know-you acquaintances. Networking can be fab and may bring potential romance or some hopeful business deals your way. Career goals get a second wind now Mercury is direct. Time to get those business projects up and running. Call for more...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Luck seems to come out of nowhere - and you might even feel that you are being helped by forces beyond your knowing. Just when a situation seemed impossible, events might happen that restore your belief in good things. Jupiter in your spiritual zone suggests that you can accomplish much if you have faith in yourself and your intuitive powers. Call for more news and astral advice...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
An urge to rebel and ride off into the sunset could leave you feeling impatient with day to day affairs. It may be an idea to focus on tasks and goals that have an element of excitement about them or a challenge. Group activities appear to be fun, so perhaps it's time to get more involved in anything that grabs your interest. Plus you never know who you might meet. Call for more...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
You could be in for a financial surprise, especially if you've recently overspent and not counted the cost. Get debt issues sorted in case they mount up even more. If you have had any tendency to go wild with your money, it might help to do the opposite instead. Career wise, you're on the ball. Discussions today may have fortunate repercussions. You may be feeling more sensitive than usual, but your partner could be quite the opposite. They may be full of life and might appear not to notice how you feel. You'll need to be firm, especially if they're up for social adventures when you would prefer to stay in. However, thoughts of travel and the possibility of exotic meanderings can be heartening. Be open to changing circumstances at work and try to avoid power clashes. Nimble Mars plus the Sun in feisty Aries, suggests you may find more reasons to voice a disagreement. Use your new found energy to clear any backlog or to channel your competitive streak. You're in a very creative mood and quite intuitive too. Finding answers to tricky problems should be easy. Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Trust your hunches, even if acting upon them momentarily puts you at odds with family and friends. You might also have a strange impulse to avoid doing things that matter, and prefer to indulge in those that don't. Setting up a reward system when you treat yourself for getting so much done may be the only way to motivate yourself. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
Don't be too worried about making a wrong move, as sometimes what seems like a mistake can be a blessing in disguise. Mercury has now turned direct, so although you may get the wrong end of the stick, somehow it may be to your benefit. Still, it pays to read the small print when signing any documents. Health wise, the cosmos gives you a potent energy boost. Call for more astral advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
It may be best to take what others say, and to consider any propositions, privately. If need be, you can also come up with a good counter-argument. However, the current skyscape suggests you may go in gung-ho, which might not be the best approach to an ongoing problem. Balance a need to be right with a desire for a working compromise. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
Luck may seem to come out of nowhere - almost as though you have a helping angel by your side. As Mercury speeds up this week in your sign, it's time to get ahead with any projects that have been on the back burner. You may experience delays for a short while, but these might benefit you anyway. You may be blessed with money-making ideas too. Call for your financial forecast...

'Perfick' time to revive a television favourite

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THERE will be plenty of 'Larkin' about at the Victoria Hall Theatre in Old Harlow when one of the most popular television programmes of the 1990s is given a stage revival.

East Herts Operatic Society will be performing The Darlings Buds Of May from tonight (Thursday) having already tackled classic TV comedies 'Allo 'Allo and Hi-De-Hi.

The stage play, based on H.E. Bates' novel, has been adapted for the stage by the author himself and focuses on the Larkin family - 'Pop' and 'Ma' (played on TV by David Jason and Pam Ferris) and their six children.

Show director Nigel Fruin said that rave reviews for their productions of 'Allo 'Allo and Hi-De-Hi had meant it was only a matter of time before they revived another TV favourite.

"We looked through several of the old comedies but this seemed a great fit," he said. "It has some memorable, funny characters in it, the type of characters which we like to portray and think we could do well.

"As we are going through the scripts in rehearsal we always find new things that are funny that maybe we didn't notice before. It's great because there will hopefully be something for everyone to have a little laugh over."

The cast of nine adults and six children is led by Harlow Theatre Company stalwart Tony Saxby as Pop.

"I am very excited to be working with EHOS for the first time and honoured to be leading the cast in this heart-warming play," he said. "It is such a funny script and will bring lots of laughs to the Victoria Hall. I can't wait for opening night."

● Darling Buds Of May opens tonight (Thursday) and runs until Saturday with shows starting at 7.30pm. Ticket prices start at £8 and are available at www.ehos.co.uk or (01992) 479188.

Players raise a laugh from a tale of sadness, hope and ordinary people

ON paper there isn't much to laugh about in Alan Ayckbourn's Life of Riley, the latest production from Moot House Players.

A man learns that he has just a few months to live. Meanwhile, his friends hurt themselves and their partners in unhappy relationships.

But on stage and under the direction of Jon McNamara, this unpromising scenario came to hilarious life.

George Riley's friends decide that the best way to take his mind off his tragic future will be to enrol him in an amateur dramatic performance of 'Relatively Speaking', another Ayckbourn play. George, who is never actually seen, contrives to repay his friends for their kindness in an unexpected way.

There are three couples in the play and, as Tolstoy might have said, each is unhappy in their own way.

Rehearsing their lines in the forthcoming production, Kathryn and Colin reveal the lack of genuine communication in their lives. Bridget McAlpine and Michael Rees were wholly believable - and very, very funny - as a couple whose relationship is a cycle of misunderstandings and failures to be heard.

Bridget wickledly captured Kathryn's irritation with her kindly but desperately dull husband, whose keenest interest lies in co-ordinating the times and chimes of his two grandfather clocks which, like the couples in the play, are all too often out of sync.

Alan Hodgson played George's best review

friend Jack, an insensitive and unfaithful businessman, married to Tasmin, played by Catriona MacLeay.

The third couple are George's estranged wife Mary (Angela Hodgson), and her new partner, Simeon. Geoff Leeds captured tongue-tied farmer Simeon's frustration while Angela portrayed the pain and conflict of a woman still drawn to her old love, even when this threatens her new relationship.

All their lives are shaken up when George, a man who makes women feel they matter, separately invites the women to take a trip with him to Tenerife. When they each accept, their partners are forced to confront their own failings, and for the first time begin speaking from the heart.

It seems that George was playing a game of his own to fix the flaws in his friends' lives.

At his funeral, sadness is mixed with hope the couples will find happiness with one another now they are communicating. Like Colin's clocks, they just needed winding up.

Ayckbourn creates drama from what seems to be the mundane and day-to-day. The MHP cast had the audience laughing at both the sadness and the absurdity of ordinary lives.

Lee's back on the road in first tour for 10 years

AFTER a 10-year absence, quick-witted comedian Lee Hurst is back on the road with a new UK tour.

In Too Scared To Leave The House, which arrives in Harlow later this month, the former star of BBC TV's They Think It's All Over will muse about the many end-of-the-world scare stories from acid rain and global warming to bird flu and mad cow disease.

Lee semi-retired from the comedy circuit in 2000 to concentrate on running his comedy club in Bethnal Green, which he has since demolished and is now in the process of turning into a seven-storey hotel.

To keep his hand in while the initial work was taking place, Lee performed the show Man v Woman at a few venues which inspired his latest offering. With no regular outlet for his first love, he decided to go back to what he loves most - making people laugh - with the 50-plus date nationwide tour.

● Too Scared To Leave The House is at the Playhouse next Saturday (March 23) at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £13.50-£16.50 and are available from the box office at www.playhouseharlow.com or by calling (01279) 431945.

The show is suitable for ages 16-plus but under-18s must be accompanied by an adult.

WELCOME TO THE PUNCH

certificate 15, 1h39m

FOR more than a decade, Lock, Stock & Two Smoking Barrels has spawned an array of home-grown crime thrillers awash with dodgy geezers, graphic violence and Cock-er-ney rhyming slang.

If the recent big screen version of The Sweeney and now Eran Creevy's heavily stylised Welcome To The Punch are any indication, the wheeling and dealing is moving into Docklands.

The glimmering skyscrapers, strip-lit office blocks and swish riverside apartments of Canary Wharf, which served as a backdrop to Regan and Carter's investigation last year, provide an equally stunning setting for this high-stakes game of cat and mouse involving a tenacious police officer and an elusive criminal.

Max Lewinsky (James McAvoy) is an inexperienced yet ambitious detective who attempts to single-handedly take down notorious criminal Jacob Sternwood (Mark Strong). Disobeying orders, Max chases after Jacob without any back-up and is shot in the leg.

Three years later, the battle-scarred detective is gifted a chance at redemption when Jacob's son Ruan Sternwood (Elyes Gabel) is arrested at an airport in connection with a bungled heist and shortly after calls his father for help.

TAKING AIM: James McAvoy and Mark Strong in WELCOME TO THE PUNCH

Jacob secretly enters the country and meets up with associate Roy Edwards (Peter Mullan) to check on his son's condition. "The police are going to make an example of him because of you," confides Roy.

At the hospital, Max and his long-suffering partner Sarah Hawks (Andrea Riseborough) wait patiently for Jacob to make his move.

But as hunter and hunted orbit one another, they are unaware they are being drawn into a deeper conspiracy involving a hired killer (Johnny Harris) and a spin doctor (Natasha Little).

Welcome To The Punch is an engrossing if somewhat underpowered thriller, hung on a serpentine plot that cocks a snook at the political establishment.

McAvoy and Strong are both solid in highly physical roles, allowing the tears to flow in quieter moments tinged with tragedy and heartache. Riseborough is woefully short-changed but makes the most of her limited screen time.

Harry Escott's urgent score creates a brisk tempo for the action sequences including the opening heist and a four-way nightclub shootout that trades heavily on slow motion to relish the sight of actors sliding and somersaulting through hails of bullets.

Inevitably, cops and robbers are remarkably unskilled with their weapons, spraying entire clips at their intended targets but only hitting the fixtures and fittings.

When a bullet eventually scythes through human flesh, it's presumably a fortuitous ricochet.

THE INCREDIBLE BURT WONDERSTONE

certificate 15, 1h40m

LONG-time Las Vegas favourite, magician Burt Wonderstone (Steve Carell), and his sidekick Anton Lovecraft (Steve Buscemi) have allowed their show to grow stale, while up-and-coming Steve Gray (Jim Carrey) is stealing the limelight.

Before long Burt finds himself out of a job and penniless while Anton heads to Cambodia to spread the joy of magic to hungry villagers.

It takes Burt's original mentor, Rance Hanson (Alan Arkin) and adoring assistant Jane (Olivia Wilde) to talk some sense into him and get him back on track performing magic with all the zeal and passion that compelled him as a youngster.

RED DAWN

certificate 12A, 1h33m

UNITED States Marine Jed Eckert (Chris Hemsworth) is home on leave in Washington, where he reunites with his police sergeant father Tom (Bret Cullen) and his brother, football player Matt (Josh Peck).

North Korean paratroopers and transport aircraft.

Their father tells them to flee to their cabin in the woods where, with a group of friends, they train themselves into a guerilla group of fighters.

Taking inspiration from their high school mascot, they call themselves the Wolverines and set about liberating their town from its captors and winning back their freedom.

25 Good; 29 Very Good; 34 Excellent.
Any word found in the Concise Oxford Dictionary (Tenth Edition) is eligible with the following exceptions: proper nouns; plural nouns, pronouns and possessives; third person singular verbs; hyphenated words; contractions and abbreviations; vulgar slang words; variant spellings of the same word (where another variant is also eligible).

WORD PYRAMID

SPELL out a 15-letter word or phrase by moving from one chamber to another within the pyramid. You may only enter each of the chambers once and may only proceed through openings in the walls. The first letter may appear in any chamber.

Three-bedroom cottage is in a delightful rural setting

coverproperty

Location Rye Hill, Harlow
Category Detached cottage
Additional Garage and large driveway, gardens overlooking countryside
Guide price £485,000
Agent Howick and Brooker, Gothic House, High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 418888

RIVETTS Cottage in the Rye Hill area of Harlow is a charming detached property in a rural setting but with easy access to the local rail network.

This three-bedroom property, which has a garage and large driveway, has been very well looked after by the current vendor and is in immaculate condition.

There is plenty of spacious accommodation, with three reception rooms and a large kitchen/breakfast room which make for an ideal family home.

Entry to the property is through a pretty porch which leads into a hallway. From here there is a door to the lounge, which faces the front of the house, and a door to the utility room which in turn offers access to the kitchen. Stairs rise to the first floor.

The kitchen/breakfast room is flooded with natural light from full length windows and French doors which open onto the garden. Light coloured units with stylish worktops give this room a sleek, contemporary look.

Also on the ground floor are a study, cloakroom and dining room.

Leading off the first floor landing are the three bedrooms and family bathroom. Bedroom one has built-in wardrobes while there is also an airing cupboard and good storage space on the landing.

Outside, there is a garage and workshop. The gardens have also been well cared for and overlook the surrounding countryside.

For the best of country living with easy access to local towns and the city, call selling agents Howick and Brooker on (01279) 418888 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

what's hot on the market

featurehomes

Tracey Waples Property Editor

THE property industry has its fair share of well-worn phrases claiming to have their roots in truth, but how much do we really need to stick to the sayings when it comes to buying or selling?

Surely the most well-known of all expressions is the now infamous 'Location, Location, Location'.

It might be good advice, but what might be a totally unacceptable location for one person might just be the ticket to a particularly coveted school for someone else or the only chance to live near a close relative for another.

A house on a busy road or within shouting distance of the airport might be a definite no-no for one house hunter but could simply mean plenty of bang for buck for someone else. Home owners have different priorities.

Likewise, we're often advised to buy the worst house in the best area, but if you're buying the worst because your budget can't stretch to anything else and yet the worst is almost uninhabitable, how are you going to afford all of the renovation costs that will come with it?

Perhaps my favourite words of wisdom - a buying decision is made in the first 20 seconds - came from an agent I met years ago.

Much as I would like to rubbish it and say I would never ever buy a house without lengthy viewings and hours of discussion, I can't help but think she is right.

Agents keep pushing the kerb appeal theory for very good reason.

On the market for £189,995

THIS pretty mid-terrace property is at Victoria Gate - an established part of the Church Langley area of Harlow - and would make an ideal first-time buy.

The house has double glazing, gas central heating and a modern fitted kitchen and bathroom.

There are two bedrooms and a good-size lounge with wooden flooring, a feature electric fireplace and doors leading out to the garden.

The property has two allocated parking spaces and a garden with York stone patio leading out from the French doors.

Contact selling agents Geoffrey Matthew on (01279) 444988 for full details or to make an appointment to view.

No onward chain for £279,950

LOCATED at Fir Park in Harlow, this extended link-detached house has everything a family could need.

There are three bedrooms, two large reception rooms and a ground floor shower room/cloakroom. The kitchen is fitted with a range of light oak units and overlooks the rear garden.

The house is in a pretty cul-de-sac and the west-facing garden makes it a particularly sunny aspect. There is also a double-width driveway and a garage.

Contact selling agents Centurion on (01279) 417234 to book a viewing.

Yours for £229,995

IN fabulous condition and with planning permission in place for an extension, this delightful family home is in the sought-after area of Markwell North in Harlow.

The house, which is in Stackfield, has three double bedrooms, a bathroom and shower room, kitchen, large living room and a conservatory.

The property sits on a large plot and also has a workshop, parking and a lovely garden with patio.

For full details or to arrange a viewing, contact selling agents Apple Tree Homes on (01279) 635975.

Pretty detached for £310,000

THIS detached house is in a lovely position in Cobbins Way, a select and quiet cul-de-sac in Old Harlow.

There are three bedrooms and two reception rooms, with a large conservatory overlooking the garden.

On the ground floor there is also a cloakroom and a pretty kitchen.

The rear garden is enclosed by fencing and a brick wall and has a patio and decking area. There is also a garage to the side.

Plans for a Successful Sale

Few estate agents use floor plans in their property particulars, yet our research has shown that buyers overwhelmingly prefer them to the usual write-up and written dimensions. There are several good reasons behind this preference, which is why we always feature floor plans on our particulars:

Firstly, where several properties are competing for a buyer's attention, the particulars with the floor plan makes an immediate impression. The layout of a property is a major consideration when choosing a new home, and cannot adequately be described by words and room sizes alone. It is the relationship between the rooms in a property that can make the difference between a comfortable and attractive home and a purely functional one. This relationship is enhanced by our use of 3D floor plans in many instances.

People make buying decisions on how a property feels as much as they consider its size. Several smaller rooms are often more practical than one impressively large one, particularly when there is a family to consider. Only floor plans can accurately relay how the accommodation actually works in practice, illustrating how it could complement the needs of a buyer.

Conversely, in instances where a floor plan alerts a purchaser to a blatantly unsuitable property, fruitless viewings can be avoided. This helps to improve the ratio of viewings that actually become sales, saving a great deal of time and frustration.

We also have examples of buyers having bought a property that might have otherwise appeared unsuitable, but the floor plan helped them to visualise adaptability in the accommodation that encouraged them to view.

Floor plans suggest an open approach to property marketing. No longer do buyers have to translate euphemistic agent-speak. After all, the agent's job is simply to match the right buyer to the right property without recourse to flowery misdescription, saving everyone time, and reducing the stress of moving home.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

TEACHER OF PSYCHOLOGY

Part time - Up to 0.75

Salary: Main Teachers' Scale (a TLR allowance may be available for an appropriate candidate)

We seek to appoint a well-qualified teacher of psychology in this successful and oversubscribed mixed comprehensive school. There will be the opportunity to teach psychology up to A-level standard. This would be an excellent opportunity in a well resourced, lively and supportive department.

The subject is a popular choice in the sixth form with two sets at both AS and A2 level, following the OCR specification. Many students go on to study psychology at degree level.

Newport Free Grammar School is a high achieving and aspirational school which places a strong emphasis on student learning. Our 2012 Ofsted inspection noted that "the school provides a good curriculum that is appropriate to students' aspirations and abilities." In 2012 we achieved 78% 5A*-C at GCSE and we aim to keep improving.

At A-Level our results were excellent, with an overall pass rate of 98.5% (an improvement on last year). The A*-B pass rate was 37.4% and the A*-C pass rate 71.4% (both up from last year). Pleasingly, students exceeded their externally set targets by some distance, particularly at the top end of the ability range.

Admiral open up title race with Link win

DARTS

WHITE Admiral opened up the title race in the Harlow & District Premier Darts League with a 5-3 win over defending champions and current leaders Servo Link.

They now remain two points off Link.

A 180 from Dave Galloway helped steer Admiral to victory.

Elsewhere, Moot House Raiders lost 6-2 at home to Tye Green Foxes.

Vanessa Townshend hit her second 180 of the season for Raiders. Dan Grimes hit a 180 for Foxes.

In spite of a 180 from Andy South and a 100 outshot from Lee Hill, Colt Hatch SC went down 5-3 at Stow Snooker.

Jack Hood notched a 180 for Buccaneers in a 4-4 draw with Paringdon Social Club.

Staple Tye Colts won 5-3 against Moot House.

Tye Green Whites and Sawbridgeworth Brewery were awarded eight points each as respective opponents Crusader and Golden Swift failed to field teams for their matches.

Moore merrier after fifth cross country title

AFTER being snowed off on the initially scheduled day for a second year in a row the sun finally came out to support the rear-ranged annual Harlow School Sports Partnership primary schools cross country event.

Five hundred runners representing 15 Harlow schools turned up to compete in the competition.

The teams competed in individual and team races in Year 3 through to Year 6 and Henry Moore took the title for the fifth year in a row – winning an incredible seven out of the eight team races.

This surpassed their efforts last year where they could only take six victories.

The following schools entered teams or individuals: Churchgate, Fawbert & Barnard, Harlowbury, Henry Moore, Holy Cross, Jerounds, Latton Green, Milwards, Nazeing, Roydon, Tany's Dell, Sheering, St Albans, St James, St Lukes and Water Lane.

All winning teams and the top

MOORE THE MERRIER: The successful Henry Moore School running squad

three individuals in every race will now represent Harlow at the Essex county final taking place in Danbury on March 26.

HSSP manager George Gardner said: "The event took place at Paringdon Sports Club for the second year and once again the club and its personnel helped to make the event a massive success.

The event was also supported by Harlow College Football Academy students who marshalled the course and Harlow Athletic Club who provided event support for all races.

"In the year following the Olympics it was great to see 500 young children competing against each other in such a good spirit. Everyone who has taken part deserves a massive thank you for making the day such a success, but in particular I would like to thank Paringdon Sports Club, Harlow College and Harlow Athletic Club who have all been strong partners in delivering this event."

Luton fly high as Hawks fail to smash Plate loss

HARLOW Hawks were unable to avenge their Herts Plate final defeat when they lost to Luton Fliers.

Hawks gave the Bedfordshire-based team more of a game on Friday than in the final in January but still fell short in last Friday's Herts Basketball League division one match.

The visitors failed to show early attacking sparkle while Luton's plan was simple.

They tried to pound the ball inside where they had a height advantage and the Hawks worked hard as a team to limit their chances.

The home side got to the free throw line a number of times, but struggled to convert attempts to points.

HERTS BASKETBALL LEAGUE, DIVISION ONE

At the other end, Nick Moss, Liam Jones and Russ Allan all tried to attack the basket with limited success for the visitors.

The first quarter ended 14-14 and it was the Hawks defence which kept them in the game.

The second quarter was scrappy.

Luton's aggressive play led to them committing a number of fouls which resulted in the Hawks going to the free throw line 14 times in the quarter, converting with seven.

However, Luton led 30-23 at the half-way stage after constant fouling from the home side affected the Hawks ability to get into an offensive rhythm.

Hawks started the second half brightly.

They turned defensive stops into fast break points, as they began to close the gap.

Some frustration for the home side boiled over as one player was sent off for dissent to the referee.

Hawks missed opportunities at the free throw line to draw level, but Shab Niaz stepped off the bench to drain back to back three-pointers.

This brought the Hawks to within one point of Luton (39-38) going into the last quarter.

This began with Moss attacking the basket to give the Hawks their first lead of the contest.

This was short lived as Harlow had a scoreless spell of six minutes in which Luton bagged 14 points to put them in the driving seat with only two minutes remaining.

A scrappy finish saw both teams at the free throw line, but the Hawks just couldn't close the gap again as Luton once again beat them.

HARLOW HAWKS: N. Moss (8pts), Svedas (8), S. Niaz (7), Lenihan (7), Allan (6), Spashett (4), Jones (2), Norkeliunas (2), Stonehouse (2).

ESSEX WOMEN'S HOCKEY LEAGUE, PREMIER DIV

HARLOW Ladies were put to the sword as they crashed to a 6-0 home defeat at the hands of second-placed Redbridge in the premier division of the Essex Women's League.

The hosts did not gel as a team and Redbridge were quicker to the ball.

Once Harlow went behind they found it difficult to get going and the hosts trailed 2-0 at the break.

Many of the goals were scored on the counter-attack and netted from close range.

Harlow are fourth in the table.

In division four south east of the East Men's Hockey League, Harlow conceded their scheduled home game against Wapping III.

Alemite into Essex final

THERE were mixed fortunes for Harlow youth football teams in the Essex County Cup on Sunday.

While Alemite Athletic U-12 Red marched into the final in their age group, there was heartbreak for Sumners Cobras U-11s who suffered a 4-1 loss in their quest for the final in front of nearly 200 people at Harlow Town FC.

Alemite will now take on Hutton (Claret) in their final at Burnham Ramblers FC on Sunday April 21 (11am KO).

Alemite won 3-2 at Leigh Ramblers (Blues) in the last four.

Goalscorers were Kai Bowers (2) and Joseph Chadd (1).

The side is managed by Stuart Childs and coached by Aaron Bowden.

The squad consists of Sam Butler, Joe Cuning, Joseph Chadd, Sam Childs, Mason Wade, Malackai Campbell, George Hopwood, Danny Ireland and Kai Bowers.

Meanwhile, Cobras fought back to 1-1 but were blown away by three second-half strikes from the impressive Upminster-based U.P.R.

The Southend Echo League premier division side took the lead but Cobras levelled from the spot through Harry Jones after a foul on Jake Wildman.

Sumners' gamble in putting on an extra attacker for a defender did not pay off as U.P.R hit them on the break. West Essex & East Herts Youth League results:- U-11 division:

Skipper sees red but brave Hawks make a good point

HAWKS skipper Stanley Muguo was red carded, but Danny Chapman's defiant side refused to allow this setback to prevent them from snatching an impressive point at play-off chasing Brentwood Town.

Harlow Town could have even grabbed all three points, but deep into injury-time striker and new signing Shamir Mullings headed over the bar from six yards after Piers Wixon's cross.

Muguo received a second yellow card on 54 minutes for a late tackle on Connor Witherspoon.

Former Tilbury striker Mullings, recruited on work experience from League Two club Southend United, was one of three new players signed by Chapman last week.

The Hawks boss has also signed goalkeeper Danny Knowles from Blue Square Bet South side AFC Hornchurch and right-back Luke Eatwell.

BRENTWOOD TN 0, HARLOW TN 0

The result virtually ended Brentwood's floundering play-off hopes as they have now gone seven league games without a win.

The result ended a run of three defeats for Harlow and with only one team going down this season, the Hawks should be safe from the drop into the Essex Senior League.

A good save from Ryohei Tamai denied Sam West from opening the scoring on 12 minutes.

At the other end, Danny Brown's headed effort was saved by the home keeper, while Wixon wasted a gilt-edged opportunity around the half-hour mark.

Five minutes later, Wixon set up Mitchell Das, but Brentwood keeper Richard Wray tipped superbly around a post.

Just before the break Wixon was denied by the feet of Wray from close range.

Brentwood's Alex Read fluffed a great opportunity when he unselfishly played the ball back into the box when he should have gone for goal himself. Player-coach Brown cleared the danger.

After Muguo was dismissed, Brentwood should have broken the deadlock on 71 minutes, but Steve Butterworth's effort was ruled out for offside.

Both sides had chances to snatch the points, but Harlow battled bravely and fully deserved their point.

"We should have been two up at half-time. We had the better chances," added Chapman.

HARLOW TN: Tamai, Butler (Hart), Toonga, Akande, Brown, Muguo, Ehui (Asamoah), O'Donoghue, Wixon, Mullings, Das. Subs not used: Brown, Eatwell, Knowles.

TOP PAIR: Steve Cox and Tony Hopkinson

Golfing duo retain Pajwani Trophy

STEVE Cox and Tony Hopkinson retained the prestigious Pajwani Trophy at Harlow's Canons Brook Golf Club.

The duo, who play off handicaps of 12 and six respectively, defeated Colin Ledwith and Alan Smith in the final at the Elizabeth Way course.

After an even first nine holes in bitterly cold conditions, Cox and Hopkinson secured a 3 & 2 victory.

Cox has been a member of the Harlow club for 15 years, while Hopkinson joined four years ago.

A club spokesman said: "It was a great achievement for Tony and Steve as they retained the trophy for the second year in succession."

Expensive Bill defeat as Heath upset odds

BEN Simpson grabbed a hat-trick when division one leaders Hatfield Heath upset the formbook by beating Northolt 6-2 at home in the second round of the Bill Bruty Cup.

Chris Bishop, Justin and Valentine Tyrell also netted for the hosts while Joe Johnson scored twice for the premier division leaders in Saturday's tie.

Back in division one of the Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District Football League, Birchanger triumphed 4-0 at lowly Albury.

Paul Tyler, Luke Robinson, Chris Gould and Duncan Vincent were on target for the visitors who are now fourth in the table.

Meanwhile an exciting Premier Division Cup second-round tie ended with Hertfordshire Rangers winning 3-0 on penalties against hosts Sheering.

The two teams had drawn 4-4 after extra-time.

Rob Bradshaw (2), Reece Unwin and Mark Barrow had netted for the visitors.

Wonderful Wall is on top form

RUNNING

HARLOW Running Club member William Wall recorded an excellent personal best (PB) time of one hour, 30 mins 36 secs in the Cambridge Half Marathon.

He came in 223rd place from 3,386 finishers and was followed home by club colleague Sean Flynn (102th, 1:47.36) and Terry Pike (1,563rd, 1:55.29).

The course followed a two-lap route passing some of Cambridge's most famous locations.

These included The Backs in front of King's College, the Market Square and the Round Church before the race finished on Midsummer Common.

Indefatigable Harlow runner Andy Kinney endured an exhausting race when he completed the famous Grizzly, a 20-mile race in 5:43.31.

The multi-terrain race started and finished at Seaton in East Devon. It was marked by snow and high winds.

Kinney was 1,393rd from 1,447 finishers.

Other result: Gunpowder 5km Park run at Waltham Abbey, Robin Lozeau 14th from 68 finishers, 24.40.

The Rams pay for second half ill-discipline

POOR second-half discipline saw the Rams toss away a good advantage as they slipped to a 22-19 defeat at Old Brentwoods in division three north east of the RFU London & South East League.

Harlow led 19-3 at the break but gave too many penalties away in the second half of Saturday's clash which the hosts capitalised on.

The match was spoiled by a waterlogged pitch which cut up as the game wore on.

The first 10 minutes was lively and saw Brentwoods go ahead from a penalty.

Harlow bounced back on the quarter-hour mark.

Fly-half Dan Smith found the gap to run in a try which he converted for a 7-3 lead.

Shortly after, Rams winger Alistair Feasey scored the try of the match.

Slick passing preceded Feasey brushing off one tackle and outpacing the remaining defenders as he ran 30 metres for the unconverted touchdown.

The visitors' lead was increased five minutes before the break.

Scrum-half Rhys Powell made an excellent solo break from a scrum close to the line and touched down beside a post.

Smith converted for a 19-3 lead at the break.

On 43 minutes, Brentwoods hit back with an unconverted try from a powerful driving maul.

As the game progressed it became very clear that the home side had decided to change their tactics.

They played to the conditions and kept the ball closely among the forwards and concentrated on power play.

Harlow did not adjust to this and spent a lot of time having to defend in their own 22.

The Rams were guilty of too many infringements and from one, Brentwoods kicked to the corner for a line-out.

From this, Brentwoods' pack drove over for a try which was converted. This cut the Rams' lead to 19-15.

Full-back Rob Mackie was yellow carded, but the 14 men of Harlow held on until he returned.

The Rams then conceded a penalty from which the home side set up another forward drive to power their way over for a try with four minutes left.

This was converted and Brentwood were three points ahead.

There was no way back for Harlow who came away with a bonus point for losing by seven points or less.

It should have been at least three points more.

Harlow are eighth and have four matches left and the first of them is when they host Canvey Island in nine days.

Sky Sports TV debut for young Harlow runner

LEWIS Harknett bounced back after two early awkward moments to run a solid 3km U-13 race at the UK Inter Counties Cross Country Championships in front of the TV cameras.

The race at Cofton Park in Birmingham was televised live on Sky Sports 3 and featured the 12-year-old Harlow Athletic Club member.

He was up against the best runners in the country and finished 92nd from 313 runners in 11 mins, 29 secs.

The course was like a mud bath and Harknett, pictured above, did fall twice near the start but still managed to finish as fourth fastest Essex boy.

This meant he scored for the Essex team who finished 11th from 41 teams.

Meanwhile, Mark Hall School student Canaan Solomon (14) had his finest race to date.

In the U-15 4.5km boys race, Solomon, who was also representing Essex, was 10th in the early part of the race before he moved up to 4th place to finish in 16.22.

Amelia Barrett (16), a Burnt Mill School pupil, was running with a cold, but she battled hard to come 36th in the U-17 girls 5km race in 21.08.

In the U-17 boys 6km race, Burnt Mill student Perry Rowan (16) came 84th in 19.53.

In the U-15 girls 4km race, Rosie Poole (13), a Stewards School student, was 64th in 18.48.

She was followed home by Mark Hall pupil Jodi Ratcliff (14), who was 93rd in 19.07.

In the U-13 boys 3km race Alfie Poole (11) came 188th in 11.55.

Ryman ref rage after red

THE capabilities of referees in the Isthmian League were questioned by Harlow Town boss Danny Chapman after his skipper Stanley Muguo was sent off in last Saturday's goalless draw with close neighbours Brentwood Town.

The midfielder received a second yellow card in the second half, but the Hawks battled bravely to secure an impressive point (see report on page 77).

Chapman fumed: "It was a complete and utter disgrace. The refereeing in the Isthmian League is not good enough.

"In the first half he [Muguo] tried to win the ball. It was a free-kick, but there was nothing in it. The referees do need to take into account the conditions.

"He won the ball [in the second half] and got sent off. It was more about him [the referee] rather than the game. It's a shame, they are spoiling football matches. There was no malice in the game whatsoever.

"We are in a fight and now I have lost my captain for the match away to Chatham in a fortnight."

New signings key to Friday night project

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman is hoping to ignite his side's Friday night project with a blistering home debut from on-loan Southend United striker Shamir Mullings.

Harlow Town host Waltham Forest at Barrows Farm tomorrow night as they test the water with a match on a different night of the week.

Mullings (19), who has joined on loan from the League Two seaisiders, is set to make his home debut after impressing in Saturday's excellent goalless draw which virtually extinguished Brentwood Town's floundering play-off hopes.

Mullings is one of three new signings brought to the club by Chapman. The former Tilbury and Thurrock forward will remain at Harlow until the end of the season.

In a real coup he has swooped for experienced former Eastbourne Borough and AFC Hornchurch goalkeeper Danny Knowles.

Knowles has been injured for two years after breaking a leg in two places. At the time he was playing for Eastbourne in the Conference.

The third signing for Hawks is striker Luke Eatwell, snapped up after impressing in the Harlow & District Football League.

Chapman said: "Shamir will make a massive difference to us. We watched him twice play for Tilbury against us."

The Hawks boss revealed Mullings could be released by Southend at the end of the season, and he hopes he will join Harlow. "He is just finishing his scholarship and they will decide whether to give him a pro contract," he said.

"His game technically is very good. He holds the ball up well and brings people into play. He needs a few games. I think there will be goals for him - and for us."

Chapman expects Knowles and Jim Hasell to fight it out for the goalkeeper's jersey. "It's up for grabs. Danny was one of the best goalkeepers in the Conference two years ago. It has taken him a while to get back both physically and mentally. Him and Jim will compete for the goalkeeper's shirt."

On Eatwell, Chapman added: "He has been training with us for quite a while. His attitude is brilliant. He has looked very busy and lively."

Both Eatwell and Knowles were on the bench against Brentwood.

Hawks club secretary Ray Dyer hopes the Friday night matches will take off.

Chapman added: "The crowds have been low this year so we thought we would give it a go. There's no harm in trying it. The atmosphere is better in the evening matches."

If the game is postponed due to the weather it has been pencilled in to be played on the original date the following day at 3pm.

Jumping Jones heads to Spain

HARLOW Athletic Club member Dawn Jones should approach the European Veterans Athletics Championships next week in Northern Spain with confidence.

Jones, who specialises in the triple jump, will be competing in the meeting at San Sebastian which runs from Tuesday March 19 to Sunday March 24.

This was after she came second in the triple jump over 40 category in the Great Britain Masters National Indoor/Outdoor Championships at the Lee Valley Centre in Picketts Lock, North London.

Jones leapt 9.85m.

She was competing inside unlike her club colleague Dave Bauer who had to brave the elements.

He threw the discus 36.13m to come second in the men's 45 age group category on Saturday.

On Sunday, Bauer threw the hammer an average of 32.33m for second place.

Bauer then threw the heavy hammer (35 lbs weight) 9.82m metres for another second spot.

In doing this he injured his back in the sub zero temperatures.

County cream

TWO Harlow Rugby Club youngsters represented Essex U-14 when they beat Norfolk 24-0.

Number eight Liam Jones played the whole game and scored one of the Essex tries.

It is a big achievement to play a whole game in age group county rugby as these matches are often marked by many substitutions.

Prop Jarod Bates started and was substituted in the first half before he played the whole of the second period.

Bates is highly rated for his talent and all round ability.

This includes his tackling, ball carrying and even try-scoring ability.

These are attributes which could take him much further in the game as he gets older and looks to progress higher within rugby.
